Traditional Wedding Album

Wedding Photography

The wedding coverage includes all the formal photographs taken inside and outside the church as well as those taken of the guests in the church grounds.

After the ceremony informal photographs of the bride and groom are taken at a suitable location, usually a park or grounds between the church and reception.

All photographs are taken, digitally scanned and downloaded on to a Video CD. They can then be viewed on any PC and most DVD players as an audio visual presentation. All the photographs are individually numbered and copies can be ordered for family and friends. The Bride and Groom also select the photographs for their album from this CD ROM.
